The Silver Moon.

1 As I strayed from my cot at the close of the day
To muse on the beauties of June,
Ere the gossamer shades I espied a fair maid,
As she sadly complained to the Moon.

2 As a hart on the mountain my love was brave
So handsome & so manly to view,
So kind & sincere and he loved me most dearly,
Alas Edwin no more was true.

3 But no he is gone, and the youth once so brave
Lies low down like a rose in full bloom
And he silently sleeps while I sit here to weep
By the sweet silver light of the Moon.

4 Let the Silver Moon guide the traveller on his way,
While the nightingale song is in tune,
For I'll never more with my true love shall stray
By the sweet silver light of the Moon.

The Irish Emigrant Lament

- 1 I'm sitting on the stile Mary
Where we sat side by side
On a bright may morning long ago
When first you were my bride
The corn was springing fresh and green
And the lark sang loud and high
And the red was on your lip Mary
And the love light in your eye
- 2 The place is little changed Mary
The day as bright as then
The lark's loud song is in my ear
And the corn is green again
But I miss the soft clasp of your hand
And your breath warm on my cheek
And I still keep listening for the word
You never more may speak
- 3 'Tis but a step down yonder lane
And the little church stands near
The church where we were wed Mary
I see the spire from here
But the grave yard lies between us now
And my step might break your rest
For isre laid you darling down to sleep
With your babe upon your breast
- 4 I'm very lonely now Mary
For the poor make no new friends
But oh they love the better far
The few our father sends
And you were all I had Mary
My blessing and my pride
Theres nothing left to care for now
Sence my poor Mary died
- 5 I'm bidding you a long farewell
My Mary kind and true
But ill not forget you darling
In the land i'm going to
They say there is bread and work for all
And the sun shines always there
But ill not forget old Ireland
Were it fifty times as far

6 And often in those grand old woods
I'll sit and shut my eyes
And my heart will travel back again
To the place where Mary lies
And I'll think I see the little stile
Where we sat side by side
And the springing corn and the light May morn
When first you were my bride
